

RIG Summer 2014

In the period January to June, RIG continued its work of educating young people in issues relating to opposing violence and corruption.

RIG organized a training day for 30 youth in city of Kigali on volunteers engagement within their respective communities . The trained promoted cooperate with local leaders to set up a joint plan that will be implemented during the forthcoming year. As part of its ongoing program of training in secondary schools in partnerships with districts in City of Kigali and Southern Province, RIG is preparing a training manual on integrity

Although Rwanda is among the least corrupt African countries , there remains some corruption, particularly in the areas of public procurement, land services, traffic police and the judiciary.
